

The only available potable water for the winter season is located at the water spicket between the South Loop Campground and the dump station. It is labeled “Drinking Water”. The sign is dark brown with white lettering.